To the team of IN-PLANET,

As representatives of 'Tekme' school, we would like to express our sincere gratitude for the excellent coordination of this project. Our team of three: Dagna Snitkiene, Dovile Sapkiniene and Rasa Icen consistently received timely and clear communication. The well-structured internal arrangements, regular updates via email, the project's website, and its Facebook page made it easy for us to stay informed about every stage of progress. The guidance provided on dissemination and follow-up activities was also very clear and useful in preparing our participants.

The Youth Exchange/Professional Development Activity was implemented at a high professional standard. The trainers demonstrated great expertise, the sessions were engaging and dynamic, and the mix between practical coaching exercises and reflective discussions was perfectly balanced. Our participants felt motivated, supported, and actively involved throughout the entire program.

The project undoubtedly brought significant added value to our organisation. We gained practical coaching techniques and tools that we can now integrate into our daily youth work, and we also built lasting partnerships with NGOs from across Europe. For our participants, this experience greatly enhanced their confidence, communication, and facilitation skills when working with youth.

There is nothing that we could suggest for the future improvement as our suggestions and needs were taken into consideration while on the project, for which we are grateful.

What we valued most was the strong collaboration among partners, the positive and supportive group atmosphere, and the practical methods that can be directly implemented in our everyday work. Overall, this project was an enriching, inspiring, and highly impactful experience for both our organisation and all participants involved.

Best regards,
